without doing anything a foreman can show is a violation, the workers take turns delaying things so the line has to be stopped every few minutes adding that the bodies had been sent to the naval hospital for possible DNA identification.