prior to the introduction of IMRT, radiation oncologists had to contend with variations in patient positioning, internal movement, and respiratory movement.

He earned his business management degree in the Ateneo de Manila University, one from the more prestigious private schools in the Philippines.

It's one of the simplest designs (the Sienna's is similar) and works quickly, as opposed to the Chrysler minivans, which have four straps to pull in order.

Evidence suggests that women do prefer care from female doctors.