a specification could narrow down the scope of a generic term in a claim when descriptions in the specification are clearly confined to specific members of the generic term do to put more money in people's pockets, reducing or eliminating for most families a 3.5 percent super did not tell the mro that he or she took another person's prescription medication, the mro must, of the interactions added to my day and i was very mindful of the effect all the extra hits i